

INDEX

We have created this list of persons mentioned in the text, on the assumption that this would be what readers would be interested in checking. It is, therefore, an alphabetized list of persons only.

In order to keep the costs down, we have not listed everyone. For example, the index refers, where possible to families organized under the names of the parents. Unless their children appear elsewhere in the story, we have left them out of the index. Also to shorten the list we have not listed the spouses of all the children, assuming that the interested reader could locate them within each family history.

We have also omitted in the index the names of school children, on the assumption that with the school and year identified, the researcher could quickly scan the Vst of names.
